Joint Minor in Environmental Biology and Environmental Chemistry with University of Toronto

Leveraging the competencies of the University of Toronto (UofT), one of the world's most prestigious universities, the Faculty offers joint minor programmes in Environmental Biology and Environmental Chemistry, for which NUS students study advanced courses for at least one semester at UofT. Successful participants are able to transfer both credits as well as grades to satisfy their graduation requirements. Under the terms of this partnership with UofT, NUS students need to pay their usual tuition fees to NUS only, for the duration of their studying stint at UofT.

For eligibility criteria and application details, please log in to the student portal.

Log in to the student portal